

Mark highlights work of new charity Healthwatch

LOCAL MP Mark Lancaster has added his support to the new charity Healthwatch.

Healthwatch, who launched in April, have taken the place of Link. They are an independent patients watchdog who confidentially log complaints about the Health and Social Care services in Milton Keynes and report any trends in the problems service users face.

Mark recently visited the new charity to hear about the work they have done in their first two months and what they hope to be able to accomplish.

Mark said, "Healthwatch is a fantastic independent consumer champion, working to help improve our local health services here in MK.

If you have any problems or need to be sign posted to the correct service I would strongly recommend you get in touch with Alan, Carol and the team over in Kiln Farm who have already made a real difference since they launched in April.

You can contact them on 01908 266 696."
