

Xen Consultants Two Years On

I felt a little underdressed when a colourful celebration of pink and black greeted me at the opening of the new offices of Xen Consultants in Wolverton Mill.

This was a welcome return for me, as it was only two years ago I was invited to open Xen Consultants brand new premises and in this time the telephone marketing company has continued to expand and grow.

Two years on and they have outgrown their premises and are now employing over 20 people. Established by Michaela Graham in 2008, her aim has been to develop sales and marketing strategies for businesses via telephone marketing and their success has been due to the consistent delivery of excellent results for clients and referrals into the business.

For me, Xen Consultants are a prime example of where an entrepreneur with determination, enthusiasm and a strong work ethic can achieve success, not only for themselves but create jobs here in Milton Keynes.
