

Willen Surgery - Re-opens its Doors

After many months of sensitive negotiations, I'm delighted to announce that Willen Surgery is to finally reopen its doors.

Following the sudden closure in 2013, I campaigned long and hard to ensure that the surgery, in some guise, was able to continue providing GP services for the local residents.

Willen surgery will reopen in January 2016 under the management of Newport Pagnell Medical Centre with the backing of NHS England. The official opening date is yet to be announced but in the meantime the building will be undergoing some refurbishment work.

This is such a positive outcome for the residents of Willen and now the surgery has been reinstated, Newport Pagnell Medical Centre will be able to provide an extension of their service to residents in and around Willen at a closer location. I couldn't be more pleased that we have managed to bring this matter to a conclusion and I'm looking forward to meeting up with the staff in January.
