

Backing Small Businesses

I was very pleased to see first-hand some of the local small businesses operating in Central Milton Keynes, Fishermead and Wolverton recently. I was very impressed by the entrepreneurial motivation behind each business, despite being dealt a number of challenges along the way.

On a positive note, business was booming and I was particularly impressed with the range of bespoke services on offer which cater for the diverse communities in my constituency.

Made aware of the apparent lack of affordable premises for small businesses and so I will be looking closely at this issue. It is absolutely essential that Milton Keynes works not just for our big employers, but also our smaller sized enterprises.
