

Surgery Ends with a Game of Bowls!

I always look forward to my annual surgery at Lovat Fields in Willen. Lovat Fields is a lively residential village which is part of the Extracare Charitable Trust. The Trust provide independent, safe and secure futures for older people.

Whilst I was there I was taken to one side to test my skills at bowls. Sadly the residents think I need more practice!