

The Lost Soldier - Marking Remembrance Sunday

The Lost Soldier installation in Canary Wharf is one in a series of seven pieces of art to mark Remembrance Sunday and the Poppy Appeal Artist Mark Humphrey has placed the art around the London business district with the help of the Corps of Royal Engineers.

The trail is free to visit for two weeks from November 1.

<http://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-3890288/The-art-war-British-soldiers-work-award-winning-sculptor-craft-stunning-Remembrance-Day-Trail-old-military-equipment.html>