

City MP looks at changes to Campbell Centre

Mark Lancaster MP, has visited the Campbell Centre, to hear from Anna Selby and Mary Ann Monaghan about the changes and developments which the Centre is undergoing in order to provide a service to better suit the public.

Mental illness is an issue close to Mark's heart, being in the military, he has seen the devastating impact of undiagnosed mental problems such as Post Traumatic Stress Disorder.

Mark said: "The reorganisation of these services will better suit the needs of the local people and I congratulate the Centre for managing to strike a balance between providing high levels of care whilst still hitting their targets."
